DALLAS, Texas, April 5.—(P)—Swashbuckling Raymond Hamilton, 22-year-old Texas desperado, who had boasted he never would be recaptured alive, was arrested tonight in Fort Worth without the firing of a shot.

Sheriff Smoot Schaid, of Dalias county, four of his deputies and a Fort Worth detective surrounded him in the railrond yards just as darkness fell. Chief Deputy E. B. Becker pushed the muzzle of a gun into Hamilton's ribs. The bank robber gave up without an effort to resist, the officers said, as they horried him into the county jail here after a swift trip from the city 30 miles west of Dalias.

Two city detectives, the sheriff said, saw a known associate of Hamilton's riding around town in a taxleab and picked him up. A note from Hamilton was reported found on him. The man, Schmid said, finally divulged the whereabouts of the bandit.

The sheriff called Fort Worth officers by telephone. Carl Harman, deputy sheriff, and Detective Chester Reagan aided him and his four deputies in the capture.

Bundled into the county jail, heavily manacled and chained to two officers, Hamilton put on a show of bravado. He shook hands with several acquaintances in the crowd of officers, newspapermen and curious, and assumed an air of nonchalance.

The chameleon-like death house fugitive, ruthless when first at the "draw," but contrastingly meek when outwitted, ended a crazy flight of months which more than once saw him wriggle free when almost in the clutches of pursuers.

He was dressed in overalls, none too clean, with a brown vest over them, and a brown hat.

"Just as fast as possible," was the answer.

Democratic leaders continued their disagreement over whether a "gag rule" forbidding amendments should be used. Speaker Byrnes, Chairman O'Connor (democrat, New York) of the rule's committee and the democratic whip, Representative Boland of Pennsylvania, said "no"—with emphasis.

But ways and means committee democrates just as vehemently said "yes" in a heafed two-hour discussion with the three. A final decision was deferred until Monday morning.

The regular leaders opposed a "gag" because a special check by Boland showed 85 democrats definitely against it and only 197 for it. They were afraid that the 100 republicans, who were meeting tonight to determine their attitude, would vote against a gag and pick up enough additional democratic votes to kill it.

The revised bill showed that the ways and means committee had reversed previous decisions and decided against limiting to persons earning less than $3,000 a year the old-age pensions paid by earnings and payroll taxes.

As the bill was originally drafted by the president's cabinet committee on economic security, it provided compulsory pensions financed by taxes for those earnings less than $3,000. Then

The tragedy was discovered Thursday night when two boys, Amos and Roy Culpepper, of 1120 Moreland drive, S. E., while looking for a lost cow, saw the automobile in the woods, did not see the occupants of the car

Running down the highway to apread an alarm, the boys met Myron Braselton and J. W. McAdams, who notified the county police.

When Policemen Gilbert and Tumlin arrived at the automobile and found the doors locked, they smashed in a window and pulled the man and the woman from the gas-filled automobile. Heflinger, police said, was dead, but the woman, though unconscious, was still breathing. She died on the way to the hospital.

Bids Around $120,000 Submitted for Work Below Augusta Dam.

SAVANNAH, Ga., April 5.—(P)—Eleven bids were opened here today in the United States district engineer office for the open river work below the lock and dam under construction near Augusta, but a mix-up in additions made it difficult to predict which offer might be lowest.

The Hardaway bid showed a grand total of $121,991.60 but the representative stated that changes which had been made in his unit prices would bring the grand total lower.

It is rare indeed that any player can fool Papa Sims when he is playing a dummy (frankly, I think it is only his brilliant dummy play which keeps the Sims system alive), so when a player fools him not only once, but twice in the same deal, and when that turns out to be the only way he could possibly be defeated, that hand is a history-maker.

Mrs. Culbertson's opening lead was a low spade away from the ace. Mr. Sims played low from the dummy and I won the trick with the ten-spot. MOULTRIE, Ga.. April 5.—P. A. Branch, of Sale City, was elected member of the Georgia Watermelon advisory committee at a meeting of melon growers here today.

State Deaths And Funerals

Sims played low from the dummy and I won the trick with the ten-spot. Later, when Mrs. Culbertson regained the lead with the ace of clubs, she again underled the ace of spades. Mr. Sims gave the major considerable thought, but could not believe that Mrs. Culbertson would twice lead away from an ace in the same hand. He therefore played the jack and I won with the queen, returning a spade to Mrs. Culbertson's ace—and to Mr. Sim's dismay. This was the only possible way the contract could have been defeated.

Double dummy players will, of course, say that Papa Sims could have made this hand by taking the diamond finesse. Certainly, however, this was not his correct play since if I had held the ace of clubs, the hand would have been a laydown regardless of the distribution of the spades, and the diamond finesse was therefore an added risk to his contract. Federal employes were obliged to take a 15 per cent salary slash during the hectic days of the depression. Ten per cent of this was restored a year ago, and the remaining 5 per cent was restored last Monday.

There are 4,157 government employes in Atlanta, exclusive of enlisted men at Fort McPherson, according to a recent survey of the Civil Service (Commission here. While discussing the closing of additional textile mills in Rhode Island and Massachusetts because of the non-sympathetic attitude of the administration and congress, Senator Metcalf said:

"The senator from Georgia has rendered a noble work by his effort to save the domestic market for his southern cotton growers."

It was Senator George's amendment to the president's $4,880,000,000 work relief bill, the conference report on which was accepted by both houses late today, that gave Mr. Roosevelt discretionary power to pay the processing tax on cotton out of work relief funds for at least 12 months.

Thrills Are Provided

In 'Shadow of Doubt' There are complications galore in "Shadow of Doubt," the Arthur Somers Roche murder mystery now playing at the Risito theater, but mightier than the plot and the other characters in the story looms the acting of Constance Collier, who plays the part of an understanding wealthy recluse.

part of an understanding wealthy recluse.

The story, which ran serially in a weekly magazine, loses none of its exciting build-up when transferred to the screen. Those who followed the tribulations of a young advertising man, his fading movie star sweetheart, and his wealthy aunt, when the story appeared in print, will have no trouble recognizing the picture which a splendid cast brings to life.

Ricardo Cortez, who seems to have found a well-shaped niche in mystery stories, plays the leading role, and is ably supported by Virginia Bruce as the film star whose fame and popularity are on the wane. Regis Toomey essays the role of a newspaper columnict who dabbles in crime.

This youngster just about tops all the acreen's little folks in her latest effort, and her enunciation certainly tops the big folks, too.

In these days of literary smart-Alecks, the Bible still he'ds its place as best-seller, the "Old Spinning Wheel" beats the song sales, and the picture of simple human appeal still draws the crowds. The inevitable answer is that the old human heart, beneath all its clowning, is just the same.

Of the several pictures of like ilk which have graced the screen during it the last year, none has been better done than "Laddie." While the little Weidler tot is the principal nitraction, John Beal and Gloria Stuart were ideally chosen for the grownup leads.

Beal grips the heart as the country boy whom college training could not lure from the soil, and the remainder of the cast are admirable in their respective roles.

PITTSBURGH, April 5 .- (P)-The full list of 70 internationally known paintings which Andrew Mellon said he intends to place in a national art gallery at Washington was disclosed today at the former treasury secre-tary's income tax hearing before the board of tax appeals.

The art treasures, one of the greatest private collections held, were acquired at a cost of $19,010.115, according to deeds of gift which accompanied their transfer to the A. W. Mellon educational and charitable trust.

cording to deeds of gift which accompanied their transfer to the A. W. Mellon educational and charitable trust.

They were introduced in evidence shortly before Mellon finished five days of testimeny at the witness stand, and drew from Robert H. Jackson, government counsel, a challenge that Mellon had not legally established an intention of placing the pictures or other assets of the trust into a national gallery.

Counsel for Mellon claims the financier is entitled to a refund of $139,000 on four of the masterpieces set aside for the gallery.

Frank J. Hogan, chief counsel for the multimillionaire, brought out from Charles Russell, deputy commissioner of internal revenue, that a bureau ruling holding the trust company nontaxable on March 8, 1933, was revoked two days ago.

Russell insisted that the bureau had reached its decision to rescind the old order last January, on recommendation of Jackson.

First Jackson had brought out that a request by D. D. Shepard, Mellon's attorney, for a ruling on the status of the Mellon trust was written on March 5, 1933, the first day after President Roosevelt's inauguration, received the next day, approved on March 7 and returned March 8.

Russell said that was, to his knowledge, the fastest ruling ever to go through the bureau.

R. S. Scott, a bookkeeper for Mellon, presented several deeds of gift and the original trust agreement made by his employer on December 30, 1930, and Hogan offered them as evidence.

He was seeking to support the Mellon contention that although originally no deduction had been asked for the $3,241,000 worth of pictures given to the Mellon trust in 1931, he was entitled to a deduction and is now demanding the $139,000 rebate on taxes paid that year.

march and returned March 8.

Russell said that was, to his knowledge, the fastest ruling ever to go through the buried at Cochran, Ga., his birthplace, today.

The body will arrive in Atlanta at 6 o'clock this morning and will be taken directly to Cochran.

"Captain Jack," whose full name was Andrew Jackson Lamb, was for 18 years conductor of the Piedmont Limited, running between New York and New Orleans. He resided at the Georgien Terrace hotel.

A promise to his mother never to marry while she was allive kept "Captain Jack" a bachelor, but following her death a year ago he became engaged to Mrs. Jack Kinny, who also resides at the Georgian Terrace.

The wedding date was set for April 15, his birthday, and plans had been wedding trip.

"Captain Jack" died suddenly of natural causes Thursday morning in the Pennsylvania station in New York city.

He was known to thousands who have traveled to New York or New Orleans aboard the Piedmont Limited and was one of the most popular residents of the Georgian Terrace.

Changing of the guard at Buckingham palace. "Look Bill, sojers!" we used to say to each other on such occasions. News Behind the News

By Paul Mallon

LAMENT WASHINGTON, April 5.—As spendthrifts, the New Dealers are proving to be something of a disappointment to themselves. They have succeeded in encouraging a rather general impression that they are good-time Charlies with the money bags. Yet somehow or other they always wind up their fiscal years by spending a couple of cool billions less than they expected to. President Roosevelt promised last year to run the treasury $7,300,000,000 into the hole. Congress authorized him to do it. At the end of the year he had succeeded in driving it in only to the extent of $4,900,000,000. That was $2,400,000,000 short of his goal.

You can get a good line now on how he is coming out this

You can get a good line now on how he is coming out this year by checking the figures for the first three-quarters of the fiscal year, ending April 1.

He had then dished out about $5,000,000,000, and his program for the entire year calls for $8,500,000,000.

This indicates his hoped-for deficit of $4,800,000,000 will turn out to be $2,800,000,000, which is about $2,000,000,000 short.

REASONS This failure is due entirely to the deficiency spending. His income is running true to the line he marked out. The three-quarters figures show receipts of $2,800,-000,000, which will make the whole year's receipts come out at around $3,700,000,000, as estimated.

But to carry out his spending program, he would have to double the existing rate of expenditures for the remaining three months of the year. Even Harry Hopkins, biggest spender who ever hit this town, cannot do that, unless he starts throwing away dollar bills from the top of the capitol dome.

The spending rate this year has been about $555,000,000 (not billions) a month, and this rate probably will be maintained for the remaining three months of the fiscal year.

CULPRITS If Mr. Roosevelt wants to punish anyone for letting money go unspent, he can start with Jesse Jones. The RFC was supposed to touch the treasury till for $400,000,000 this year. Instead, Jones has given the treasury $137,000,000. Therefore, his spending calculations are off more than half a billion

The AAA-ers hoped to run $660,000,000 behind the processing tax receipts, but have succeded in running only $167,000,000 behind. Mr. Ickes fell half a billion short of his estimates. Mr. Farley's deficit is nearly $20,000,000 less than he anticipated, even after giving away those stamps. Interest being paid on the public debt is $300,000,000 below estimates.

The only money-thrower who can hold his head up is Hopkins. He figured he would get rid of $1,700,000,000, and he has dis-bursed $1,200,000,000. You can trust him to get rid of the rest before the end of the year.

MOTIVE The man in the street who has been trying to lay aside a couple of dollars for an Easter hat may not appreciate this self-disappointment of the New Dealers. Also, the taxpayers, who were drained March 15, may suspect it is not realistic. There seems to be something in such suspicions.

Mr. Roosevelt's habit of over-estimating expenditures for his advance budgets serves several useful purposes. It keeps the spending enthusiast quiet in and out of congress. It gives an inflationary buoyancy to business sentiment. And no matter how many billions he spends, the fact that he spent less than expected makes the spending appear to be conservative.

POKER Noises drifting out from the relief bill conferees indi-cated that Senator Carter Glass has at last met his match in shrewd stubbornness, if not in studied irritability. The formidable foe is Chairman (Buck) Buchanan, of the house appropriations committee.

Mr. Buchanan has a high-pitched voice, but do not let that fool you. He wears the smallest-sized shoe you have ever seen on a man, but that fact may be subject to misinterpretation also. A more accurate understanding of him may be developed from the stories, whether true or not, that he once carried a small pistol and that he knows the rudiments of poker which cannot be learned from

The conference was a constant clash between the personalities of Glass and Buchanan, with Buchanan adequately holding his own.

YAWN Old political stage-hands paid little attention to the exuberant claims made by both republican and democratic orators about the recent sectional elections.

The best Michigan authorities believe the results there may have indicated that Mr. Roosevelt could not carry that state today. Inasmuch as he did not carry it last November, this deduction is hardly sensational. The Chicago election meant little because the republicans did not present their best candidates, did not try. Too many local personalities were involved in these two sections, and elsewhere, to warrant any worth-while national conclusions

But liquor had no place in ordinary social life; no hostess served drinks; there were no hip flasks at parties or dances.

Parents were horrified if their son drank; it was a disgrace to get drunk; a young man who drank could not get or hold a job of any importance; railroads fired drinkers, and many industries were beginning to follow their example.

No nice girl would go with a drinker, and any woman who drank was without virtue or reputation. The prohibition frenzy changed things, but the attitude that is natural will develop again as the country gets back to normal. Don't let the present situation fool you.

Weary Grind MIAMI, Fla., April 5.—The inkAt Miami stained wretches of the fourth estained wretches of the fourth estate who follow the president down to the water's edge when he goes out to fish are making the best of their lot under trying conditions. To cover the president when he goes fishing, a journalist must exercise constant vigilance from about 4 o'clock in the atternoon until 7 or sometimes 8 in the evening to catch the official communique from Marvin McIntyre.

This seriously cuts into the day's schedule and the strain tends to make men old before their time. However, the fidelity of the fourth estate is prodigious and the members of the corps of correspondents stand loyally to their task with never a word of complaint nor any thought of demanding a five-day week or even one day off in seven.

complaint nor any thought of demanding a five-day week or even one day off in seven.

From Sunday to Sunday the weary grind goes on at the Miami-Biltmore relieved only by tennis, golf, bathing in the surf or in a choice of salt water or fresh water pools, blimping in the blimp, flying in the egg-beater which goes straight up and comes straight down, lunching on the patio and dancing in the night club when the task of the day is done. Until last week there was horse racing, too, and it was safe for a journalist to catch a little relaxation at the horse park in the afternoons because Mr. McIntyre generally was out there getting away from it all himself. One afternoon last week, a bellboy named McCullough gave Mr. McIntyre three winners, one of them at about 20-to-1, but when Mr. McIntyre went into action at the windows he thought he knew better and wagered otherwise. But now the racing season is over, so the homely pleasures, if you could call them pleasures, of the corps of correspondents have been curtailed by just that much.

Parties
Theoretically, it would be possible for a journalist to tear himself away from the exhausting routine of headquarters, hire a boat or plane and go chasing the president through the islands. But that would run up an enormous expense account and it would hardly be worth the money to dig up the news that once more Mr. Roosevelt had caught no fish today. Furthermore, it would be against the accepted rules which hold that the president is entitled to privacy for his rest and that the journalists should quarters, hire a boat or plane and go

CAPITAL SELECTS CASE TO TEST NRA

Meanwhile, Small Businessmen Protest Oppression of Codes.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—(P)—
Little businessmen raised the cry of "persecution" by NRA today even as the government scurried to get a quick high court test of the recovery act's constitutionality.

In another and older field of government regulation of industry, coincidentally, the government filed suit charging a group of St. Louis credit information firms with violation of the anti-monopoly law.

The senate finance committee NRA hearing was told today by a St. Louis coal dealer. Louis L. Horen, and a Baltimore suit manufacturing firm attorney, Nathan Hamburger, that their companies were persecuted and oppressed by the dominant factions of the two industries since operating under codes.

der codes.

While they were testifying Justice Department lawyers waded through the 1,600-page record in the Schechter poultry case, which they hoped would draw the supreme court's opinion of NRA's constitutionality before a new industrial recovery bill is enacted by congress.

In supreme court circles, it was said that a decision this spring might depend on whether the Schechter Corporation, of New York, convicted of code violations, would waive its right to take 20 days to file its reasons for opposition to a supreme court review, to be asked next week by she government.

If the company waives this right, the court could decide April 13 whether it would review the decision of the New York circuit court of appeals upholding the district court's conviction on 17 fair trade practice counts but reversing the district court's conviction of two counts of wage and hour violation.

The government will appeal to the supreme court from the district court's reversals, and Donald Richberg, NRA chief, said the Schechter company

Horen, the coal dealer, testified at the senate hearing that the provisional coal code authority attempted to raise the coal price for the Missouri city 78 per cent and "mulct consumers" of from $3,000,000 to $5,000,000. He said his company sold coal for a profit of $1.25 cents a ton less than the code price.

He said the coal exchange of St. Louis published an advertisement headed "Chiseling Coal Prices Make Homes Like This" over a picture of a destitute family standing in front of a tumble-down shack. He charged the family was not connected with coal mining and was paid to pose for coal mining and was paid to pose for the picture.

"The United States government has

Rain, Mercury Drop Slated for Atlanta

Showers, followed by decidedly lower temperatures, are in store for Atlanta today, according to George W. Mindling, meteorologist here.

The mercury will mount to around 80 degrees this afternoon from a low of 60 degrees in the early morning. By late afternoon or night, however, there will be a sharp decline, which will continue through Sunday night.

The temperature range Friday was small. Starting at 56 degrees, the mercury climbed to 66 degrees at 3 o'clock. This was followed by a sharp drop, the mercury slipping down to 59 degrees in less than two hours.

TOURIST TRADE NETS FLORIDA $500,000,000

MIAMI, Fla., April 5.—(P)—Florida today reckoned as upwards of $500,000,000 the tourist business of its "biggest and best" season since the boom days of 1925-26.

Relaxation and recreation were sold, the state notel commission of-ficially estimated, to 1,750,000 visitors.

The agency also calculated the visitors, a quarter-million more this year than last, spent $625,000,000 during their stay in Fjorida.

JONES NAMED AS NEW COACH

War Department Transfers Former L. S. U. Pilot to Norman.

By Hugh Wagnon,

Associated Press Staff Writer. NORMAN, Okla., April 5 .- (P)-Out of a snarl of war department red tape, the University of Oklahoma plucked today a famous football coach -Captain Lawrence (Biff) Jones-"fraternity row" buzzed tonight gleeful anticipation of halcyon days of victory.

When the former army mentor takes over the football reins next fall, he will find a wealth of sophomore material, described by the retiring coach. Lewie Hardage, as the "best I ever saw." Not only that, he will find 23 returning lettermen and a schedule "made to order" with opening games against Colorado and New Mexico, teams the Sooners expect to take in stride before running against their Big Six conference foes.

He also will find a "million dollar" fraternity section of palatial houses; the second largest student body in the Big Six conference, only Nebraska surpassing the Sooners' 5,000 plus; and political conditions which led George Milburn, Oklahoma author, to call the university "a comic opera college in a comic opera state."

Hardage, who withdrew his initial protest to Jones' transfer, could not be reached for comment upon the action of the regents releasing him May 31.

JONES FLASHES FOR NINE HOLES

After Great 33, Bobby Falters on Backside With a 39.

By Alan Gould.

By Alan Gould.

Associated Press Sports Editor.

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 3.—(P)—
For little more than an hour today, the sun penetrated the low-hanging clouds and the great Bob Jones projected a flash-back of his one-time championship skill against the gray backdrop of the Augusta National Golf Club's $5,000 invitation tournament before yielding the low-scoring homors for the second straight day to the spectacular Henry G. Picard, of Hershey, Pa.

For the first time since he retired as champion of the world five years ago, the 33-year-old Atlanta lawyer shot the kind of golf that made him famous. Negotiating the outward nine in 33, three under par, Jones flung-a belated challenge to the all-star field that echoed in the roar of the crowd over the rolling Georgia battleground. It was a gallant bid but he couldn't make it stick.

Just when it looked as though he was about to take an old-fashioned fall out of Old Man Par Jones fall.

Just when it looked as though he was about to take an old-fashioned fall out of Old Man Par, Jones faltered on the home stretch and was overtaken by another sudden attack of the putting jitters. He struggled in finally with a par 72 but he had dissipated his hard-won advantage and forfeited a great chance to pass a flock of faltering leaders. Ruefully he admitted he was "just a nine-hole roller."

JONES 18 18TH.

With a total of 146 for 36 holes, the halfway stage of the tournament, Jones was tied for eighteenth place in a field of 65 crack amateurs and professionals. He was exactly 11 strokes behind Picard, the tall, youthful pro who added a 68, four under par, to his previous day's record score of 67 and took a strangle-hold on first place with the amazing total of 135. today because he went out there and fought that game with all his great courage. Five years of inactivity have taken away some of the old magic, but he has all the old courage left. He used it today.

He left the tee today with Gene Sarazen, who had a 68 on sterday. And through the first four holes Jones was even par. It was on the fifth green, a wicked green with a sort of bustle in the rear and deep curving convolutions in front, that he went one under. Jones' second was in one of these deep curves and he putted it out of there to the small upland space where waved the flag.

A pop-eyed colored caddy jerked out the pin and the ball unked in while the crowd roared and the clapping hands unded like the spatter of gunfire. Jones had gone one under r.

He was par on the next one and then came two birdies. He might have had a three at the eighth but a cameraman clicked his camera as he lined up the putt and he had to stop and wait for the man to be moved. He got his birdie but he might have had an eagle.

He shoved home an eight-foot putt on the ninth, where a tssed crowd waited to cheer him. And the wires began to sh the word that Jones was hot, that he was out with a 33.

praying and cheering as he lought hard to hold the touch on the final nine. It was a fighting, courageous effort he made. And it is better golf than he played last year when he started 76-74 on the first two rounds. Yet it isn't enough. It was never the "old Jones" today because even on that dramatic first nine, when he had a 33, he was never the golf machine he was five years ago when he could do nothing wrong. He worked hard on the first nine, he had some luck and he hit a few good chip shots. But it was the putting touch that decided it. It was threeputt greens on the second nine which ran up the score. YATES HAS 76. Charley Yates, of Atlanta, captain of the Georgia Tech golf team and the national inter-collegiate champion, scored a great 70 today, two under par. to become the leading amateur. Yates, with a 145, was one stroke ahead of Lawson Little, the national amateur and the British amateur champion. Little was one of those tied with

When Pere Griffith was duly informed of the transaction, he was fit to climb the Washington monument.

Little was one of those tied with Bebby Jones, having identical rounds, 74 and 72.

Yates was even par on his first nine today but was two under on the back nine, sinking long putts and scoring an eagle three on the par five 15th, one of the three eagles scored during the day.

"I got just a little hot," said Yates.

NATIONAL GOLF CLUB, AU-GUSTA, Ga., April 5.—Out in front tonight, halfway to the first prize money of $1,500 in the Masters' tour-nament, was Henry Picard, the Candy Kid from Hershey, Pa., who added an amazing 68 today to his even more amazing 67 of Thursday, for a total of 135.

amazing 68 today to his even more amazing 67 of Thursday, for a total of 135.

He was nine under par for 36 holes of golf and they followed three rounds at Atlanta where he was four under the national intercollegiate champion, 54 holes.

Calmly, strongly and with machine-like precision, he went about the job of holding his lead today. He was out in 35 and he was back in 33, putting together a string of four consecutive birdies on the back nine.

His great round, another by Walter Hagen and Bobby Jones' smashing first nine, when he was three under par, were the features of the day.

SARAZEN SECOND.

In second place was Gene Sarazen, with a par-breaking 71 today for a total of 139, and with him was Ray Mangrum, of Los Angeles, with a 71 to add to his 68 of Thursday.

And third place, where Jimmy Hines and National Open Champion Olin Dutra are placed, is an example of just what sort of swashbuckling, par-breaking golf has been played in this golf tournament. Olin Dutra and Jimmy Hines have had two rounds of 70 each, And where do they find themselves with these two rounds of golf which are four under par? Well back in third place, five strokes back of the leader. It is very likely somewhat discouraging to shoot two rounds of 70 and be five strokes back of the leader.

Craig Wood is in fourth place all leader.

Craig Wood is in fourth place all by himself with a 71, and then come Paul Runyan, Walter Hagen and Willie Goggin, with totals of 142.

Bobby Jones, who was in 25th place yesterday, was in a tie for 18th place tonight following his dramatic round in which he went out in 33, three under par, and then broke on the back nine to finish with a 39, three over, and a par round of 72.

Had he fired a 67 as it appeared he might, the course would not have held the crowd tomorrow and Sunday. They were with him today, cheering madly on the first nine, groaning, praying and cheering as he fought hard to hold the touch on the final nine.

Crackers Shell Grove To Beat Red Sox; Meet Yanks Today

FIRST-INNING

The lead obtained off Connie Mack's old ace was sufficient to give the Crackers a 4-2 victory at the end of six innings, when the game was called due to darkness—their first victory over big league opposition in the exhibitions.

Crackers a 4-2 victory at the end of six innings, when the game was called due to darkness—their first victory over big league opposition in the exhibitions.

TOUGH SPOT.

It is a tough spot for any lefthander, facing those Crackers with eight righthanded hitters in their lineups, and "Lefty" soon found it out to the tempo of base hits that whizzed past his ears and the rear of the spectators who watched him take his shellacking with great glee.

Grove was wild to begin with and when he came in there with a semblance of the old "fire ball," the Crackers squared away, took a toghold and teed off. The old sip wan't there, but then it was a terrible day for a lefthander to be out there.

Hill, the first hitter, went out. Then "Nig" Lipscomb walked and Harry Taylor doubled, scoring him. "Sheriff' Harris, who could hit Grove or-anyone else when he was with Washington, larruped one away down toward the scoreboard for a double, scoring Taylor. Oana singled to center to score Harris, Paul Easterling also singled, but Palm was out on a fly. Chatham walked and Grove finally pulled out of the nightmare by forcing Thomas to hit a grounder.

Entries are being received at 401 Peachtree Arcade.

THOMAS LOOKS GOOD.

"Bud" Thomas, the Virginian who is out after a regular starting job worked the first two and two-third innings, hurling shutout ball, with only two hits charged to him.

Bobby Durham, the squatty rookie, relieved him after resumption of play, retired "Bing" Miller on a fly out to end the third and pitch the remaining three. Durham was touched for the Sox's only runs and three hits but looked pretty good nevertheless.

The scenery changes today and instead of the Red Stockings, we have "Ruth-less" New York Yankees of Marse Joe McCarthy for a game starting at 3 p. m. The Yanks are here today and Sunday and next week will give the fans a last look at big league opposition. Next week will find the Crackers battling the double-A clubs, Baltimore and Buffalo, three games each.

'Anything Biff Does Is All Right'---Blaik

Dartmouth Coach, Here, Was Associated With Jones on Army Grid Staff for Four Years.

By Jack Troy.

"Anything Biff Jones does is all right."

So said Earl Blaik, coach of the Dartmouth College football team, here last night upon learning that Biff had been transferred to Okla-

West Point for four years. They were together from 1926 through 1930.

"Biff is one of the best in the game. You think that, don't you?"

The answer was in the affirmative, of course, and with ample emphasis.

"Yea, Biff is very able. And anything Biff does is all right.

"I do not know the situation at Coklahoma, but I am sure Biff will make the Sooners an outstanding leader. If he has the material he will make the Sooners an outstanding leader. "Say," said President Hopkins jokingly, "I feel slighted I couldn't have a picture taken by myself." Coach Blaik has been at Dartmouth since 1934. third, from where he scored on Harris' long fly to right.

Figuratively speaking, "Lefty" was hanging on the ropes all the time he was in there, passing four hitters. He staggered through the second and then the clouds loomed blacker and play was called, apparently to his relief. He strode toward the dugout after taking his medicine like a man. It must have been a bitter dose at that for Grove in his last start looked very good and the $100,000 arm which Tom Yawkey bought gave forth encouragement to Joe Cronin.

But yesterday Grove wasn't Grove.

JUST ANOTHER PITCHER.

He was just another left-hander, no better than some the Crackers will look at — and probably shells just as hard—in the Southern league this year with that row of right-hended power.

"He was pretty fast—faster than the average pitcher—when he could get the ball over, but all he showed us was a fast one and a dinky change of pace," one of the Crackers said after the game.

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

A LITTLE SATURDAY TALK. As I think of the month of April, a ew lines from a poem come back to

Which spreads in every part of me, When April, velvet-footed, comes."

Many of us feel the stir of the springtime during April. We are likely to have what some call "spring fever"; and the desire to wander to far fields may be strong in us.

The reason for the name "April" is not quite certain; but some scholars trace it to a Latin word meaning "to open." Surely April is a month of opening buds in many parts of the northern half of our earth; and in the same parts, the earth takes on a new coat of green grass.

Among the famous persons who were born during April are Hans Christian Andersen, the Danish writer of fairy stories; Thomas Jefferson, American statesman and president; and Oliver Cromwell, who made himself master of England not quite three centuries ago.

Other April-born men were Washington Irving, George Canning, Henry Fielding and Friedrich Froebel.

Friedrich Froebel deserves the thanks of all of us, for he was the "Father of the Kindergarten." A "garden of children"—of little children from 3 to 5 years of age could be taught to play in a way which would help them learn. He was a German by birth, but he belongs to all humanity. His work has spread to many countries.

It is believed that William Shakespeare was born in April, though our record is the date of his baptism, not of his birthday. If he is really among the April-born, he standst forth as most famous of all. He had a gift of writing which probably has not been equalled by any other writer of plays.

The bond market hestitated at first but finally was pulled into line by power and light obligations.

Utilities Advance.

Flushed with the turn of fortune's tide in Washington where the TVA encountered some rough sledding when its director. David Lillenthal, appeared before the house interstate commerce committee and the senate-house conference committee eliminated the possibility that any of the huge work-relief funds would be used by the government to acquire existing privately owned power companies, utility stocks got away on the inside track and held the advantage throughout the day.

A nest of low-priced common shares acted as the magnet that drew major trading activity but preferred shares of well-known companies also enjoyed a wide market. The following stocks sold at new high prices for the year: West Penn Electric, various classes; American Power & Light and the preferred stocks of Consolidated Gas, General Gas, Louisville Gas and Public Service. NEW ORLEANS, April 5.—(P)—
The cotton market held in a 10-point trading range for the entire session today, and finally ended a dull trading period with only minor price changes apparent.

Business was restricted and there was no definite trend, or an incentive to start one in either direction. At the finish old crops were down around 5 points, while gains of similar proportions were shown by the more distant positions.

May finished at 10.86, July at 10.92, October at 10.57 and December at 10.64, while spots were up 3 points at 11.28 for middling.

Liverpool reported a quiet market, but a steady tone as traders were hesitant there about entering the market until the 1935 general loan policy on domestic cotton is clarified.

The processing tax is still drawing interest of most of the ring, it is said, and from Washington advices it appears that much sonsideration is being given to this problem there. Debates regarding the feasibility of continuance of the excise are heard almost daily on the senate floor, but as yet nothing has developed that can aid speculative sentiment.

Liverpool is due to open on New Orleans tomorrow from 1 to 4 penny points higher.

Port receipts totaled 9,772; season 4,613,301; last season 3,637,506; last season 6,114,455. Stock 2,239,051; last year 3,064,225. Stock on shipboard at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston were 72,455; last year 71,-954. Spot sales at southern markets 2,124 bales; 9,306 last year.

Offerings increased slightly after the call but after showing net losses of 3 or 4 points under New Orleans and local selling, prices steadied on trade buying and covering. This was encouraged by the better tone of the stock market, but the late fluctuations were mixed. were mixed.

NEW YORK, April 5 .- (A)-Bond oined stocks today in one of the most npressive steps toward recovery number of weeks.

All domestic categories participated the upturn which carried the Associated Press utilities average to a new peak for the year. While the rail and industrial composites were still under their 1935 tops, they ad-ranced almost as much as the power

Of particular cheer to dealers was the fact that the trading volume ex-panded sharply on the rally. Trans-fers totaled $15,117,000, par value, against $10,556,000 in the previous

The news, generally, was interpreted as constructive. Followers of the utilities added to their holdings on the belief that the much disputed holding company bill, now under discussion at Washington, would be modified if not put over until the next session of congress.

Among power issues up fractionally to around 3 points or so were International Hydro-Electric 6s at 36 1-4, Columbia Gas 5s at 83, North American 5s at 93, Laclede Gas 5 1-2s at 61. North American Edison 5 1-2s at 92 3-4 and Tennessee Electric Power 6s at 97.

Rail gainers, up nearly as much as the utilities, included Atlantic Coast Line 4 1-2s at 79, Baltimore & Ohio 6s at 68 1-2. Erie General 4s at 72 1-2, New York Central Consolidated 4s at 74 3-4, Nickel Plate 5 1-2s at 60, Northern Pacific 6s at 90 1-2, Southern Pacific 4s at 92 1-4 and Southern Railway 5s at 86 14.

Paramount-Famous 6s spurted 3 3-4

Paramount-Famous 6s spurted 3 3-4 points to 74 1-2 following yesterday's court approval of the Paramount-Publix reorganization plans. Smaller advances were recorded by Bethlehem Steel 5s at 107 3-4, Container 6s at 103 3-8, Penn-Dixie 6s at 74 and Youngstown Sheet 5s at 90 1-2.

The United States government section followed corporation issues more sedately, but there was a turnover here of some $4,490,000 compared with $2,440,000 Thursday. Gains in the federals ranged from 1-32nd to 8-32nds of a point with the treasury 2 7-8s and two other treasury loans bettering their old tops for the year.

Income Tax Returns Show Gain in Month

WASHINGTON, April 5.—(P)—An increase of 39.7 per cent in income tax collections in March over the same month last year was reported formally today by the bureau of internal recents.

Reports from the 64 collectors in the United States showed total col-lections of $321,726,348, compared with $230,348,089 in the same period last year.

Commissioner Guy T. Helvering said the increase in receipts of income taxes occurred in every collection district except Hawaii.

Thirteen districts reported increases of more than 70 per cent over last year, these being led by Florida, which showed a gain of 102 per cent.
Thirty districts aboved Thirty districts showed an increase in collections of 50 per cent or more.

The corn market had an appearance of having been at least temporarily overbought. There was a notable lack of the aggressive speculative demand which had been so much in evidence of late as to corn. Besides, with the corn market showing almost 10 cents a bushel advance from the recent low point, profit-taking sales became the rule today not only in corn but in other grains as well.

Brokers' Views

FENNER & BEANE...It is our view that the market has successfully met a test of the secondary trend and that this performance may give encouragement to further gains, particularly in the rails. Nevertheless, we look for rengwed resistance moderately above Friday's best levels. A sharp run-up on a favorable rail decision Monday might provide an attractive profittaking point.

Market Outlook

MAX BUCKINGHAM

(Copyright, 1968, by the United Free.) NEW YORK, April 5.—(UP)— Nervously optimistic stock market op-ratiors tonight started talking about in improved market for the near fu-

CURRENCY MOVE SEEN.

CURRENCY MOVE SEEN.

Possibility that some foreign investment will come into local security markets. Wall Street is convinced that Holland soon will make a currency move—either devaluation or abandonment of the gold backing or both—and that this will lead to foreign funds coming into this market. Some gold already has been checked out of Holland since the guilder started sliding on forward deliveries. Today spot quotations on the guilder dropped almost a cent while the forward delivery lengthened even further in comparison with the spot quotation.

in comparison with the spot quotation.

The Dutch situation is not entirely bullish. A curerncy move by the Netherlands would further confuse the foreign exchange situation. Switzerland could be counted on for some action should Holland devalue. If these two stalwarts left the gold standard—as many believe they will—then France will be left alone and many believe France could not stand the pressure despite her show of coining new gold coins this week to prove to the world that she was adhering strictly to the gold backing.

the lef's orchestra will render appropriate airs for the ceremony, and will continue to supply music throughout the week.

Beginning tonight and continuing during the week, Rich's, Inc., will present two fashion shows nightly at the show.

On the opening night the fashion show will be for brides. With a complete and gorgeously beautiful bridal party, preceded by fashions for the bride's trousseau, her going-away costumes, and a comprehensive and beautiful picture of her entire trousseau.

Correct costumes for guests attending the wedding will also be modeled in the effort to picture to the public how a woman should be rightly dressed for a wedding whether she is the bride, an attendant or a guest. Prominent young Atlanta women will act as models and the whole affair promises to be one of spectacular loveliness.

The bridal show, always most interesting to women, is only one of a series that will be equally interesting. During the week after-dark fashions, feminine fashions, fashions for college girls, business girls' fashions sports fashions and on Saturday night, April 13, anvether wedding party will be presented.

There will be two shows each night, the first at 7.2 o'cleck and of the presented.

The product of the gold backing.

Then too, there is possibility that Holland leaving the gold standard and devaluing might result in some foreign selling in the local market as banks called loans, thus necessitating liquidation to meet these calls.

But the undertone here was bullish. Many in the street feel that a rise in the market is overdue, despite domestive of this was the comment of a brokerage house:

Current market fluctuations may becloud the main trend for a time but the should be only one answer to the ultimate outcome. Terrific government spending; enormous budget deficits; consistent increase in credits; consistent increase in credits; consistent increase in credits; consistent increase in credits.

Completion of congress action on the work relief bill was another favorable factor inasmuch as it remove

FURTHER GAINS SEEN BY DUN & BRADSTREET

NEW YORK, April 5.—(P)—Dun & Braastreet in its weekly trade review said today business had entered the second quarter with renewed force.

"Buoyed by the abundance of statistical information that during the first quarter of the year the trend was consistently upward," the survey stated, "curent signs of more activity in some of the laggards are helping to provide momentum for still better progress during the second quarter, in spite of the numerous complications which will be encountered.

"While a few trades still bear evidence of the uncertainties arising from threats of labor dissensions a week earlier, the general rate of gain has encountered no serious retrograde currents, but the passing of March has brought few regrets.

"Retailers have been encouraged particularly by the more rapid movement of luxury lines, and now are estimating that April volume will rise 20 to 35 per cent above that recorded for April, 1934."

The best retail showing of the week, the survey stated, was in the middle western area where gains amounted to 10 to 12 per cent above last year.

Higher schedules adopted by a number of divisions during the week has lifted the general rate of industrial operations 12 to 15 per cent in excess of the comparative 1934 showing. Dun & Bradstreet stated.

Production of drugs, furniture, stoves, paints and men's clothing at some centers has reached a new high for three of four years, with the peak of the season yet to be reached, the report said.

FREIGHT LOADINGS

INCREASE IN WEEK WASHINGTON, April 5.—(P)—
The Association of American Railroads announced today that loadings of revenue freight for the week ended March 30 were 617,485 cars, an increase of 9,705 above the preceding week, 7,295 above the corresponding week in 1934, and 119,129 above 1933.

Miscellaneous freight totaled 242,864 cars, an increase of 8,342 above the preceding week, 15,829 above 1934, and 66,111 above 1933.

Sales Increase.

CHICAGO, April 5.—(P)—An increase of 29.7 per cent in total sales for the second period of 1935, February 27 to March 26, over the same period for 1934 was announced today by Sears, Roebuck & Company. The figures were: for 1935, $29,007,986; for 1934, $22,362,353. The firm reported a 22 per cent increase for the two periods, January 30 to March 26, with $52,155,052 for 1935 in contrast to $42,758,248 in 1934.

"I should think you could clean out all your closets. And may I suggest that you empty all the medicine bottles, all the almost empty cold cream jars, the partially filled eye wash bottles. Medicines deteriorate on standing. Cold cream will get rancid. Eye wash, unless kept in tightly corked bottles will get dusty and germ laden. It is poor economy to use any of those things. Throw them away." Eleanor did that. She found quite a few empty suit and shoe boxes, too, that went the way of all trash. Her cupboards and closets seemed much more roomy when she finished.

Accurate Diagnosis.

Accurate Diagnosis.

South was able to fulfill a very dangerous three no-trump contract on the hand below by the brilliant dropping of a doubleton queen. He was able to do so because he knew his right hand opponent and knew that player in all probability needed that queen to make his opening bid a sound one. The play of the entire hand and the reasoning which led South to make his accurate diagnosis is recounted below. East, Dealer.

cleared the diamond suit.

At this point the declarer was reasonably certain East's opening bid was legimate. That player had a sure entry card in the spade acc. South therefore knew he could not afford to try to set up another heart but had to take six club tricks immediately. He played the ace, on which East dropped the ten, and then continued with his low club.

Friendly Counsel By CAROLINE CHATFIELD. Problems of general interest submit-ted by readers will be discussed in this column. Correspondence invited. Your name beld in confidence. Write Miss Chatfield, care The Atlanta Constitution.

We used your March second column as the basis for our discussion in our club. This, you may remember, was a letter from a man correspondent complaining that only stories of unhappy marriages were aired in problem columns. You replied that only those who had unhappy problems brought them to you for advice. One of our group suggested a point that we thought well taken and I am passing it on to you. She said that the majority of your correspondents were young people and that many a young wife had a fuss with her lrusband and in the heat of anger she would sit down an. write you a letter about the mistreatment she suffered at his hands when in truth she was pretty well satisfied with her lot and wouldn't swap with anybody. We know all young couples have a hard time getting adjusted to each other in the first few years of marriage. Most of them are shocked to discover that the billing and cooing of courtship can't be sustained after they are married. They have little misunderstandings that amount to nothing but at the time each one of them thinks the end of the world has come. The young wife sits at home and nurses her hurt feelings and composes a letter that gives yent to them. Dear Miss Chatfield

Here we were 10 middle aged married women and all of us happily married. We could recall times when we feared we had made mistakes h. our marriages. We could all remember quarrels we had had with our husbands when we could have written reams of complaints about the way we were neglected and mistrested. But we had to seknowledge that life had been sweet and full for the most part. One of these women is married to a man who drinks heavily but she has managed to keep a lovely home and rear four fine children. Another is married to a man who has never made a good living. She knows what powerty is but she also knows that money won't make a wife happy unless her husband loves her

FIELDS and STREAMS

The chronic complainer who spends his time cussing the rain is an enemy of conservation. For the first time in many a year I gladly sacrifice freshly creased trousers and a shoet shine to a cloudburst, because the rainfall has been deficient for so long that our wild life is suffering seriously.

As has been pointed out bere many times before, the duck supply has not been affected so much by shooting as by drouth conditions in the middle west and the prairie provinces of Canada. Water tables have fallen lower for the past two seasons than in many years previously. You can readily understand why waterfowl cannot exist whout water. There must be water for breeding areas and water to grow their favorite foods. There must be water over millions of acres of land to support the flights of ducks that have diminished so sadly in the past two years. Drainage of a water reservoir, s.ch as a marsh, has in many cases lowered the water table so markedly that wells and springs have gone dry. Farm lands of the highest type have been ruined because greed forced the drainage of more land than was needed.

Green lawns in our cities tend to mislead most of us. We see grass flourishing under the hot suns of August, but 50 miles away the fields lie parched and brown, scorched to a crisp for lack of water—that precious compound that might be just a few inches beyond the tips of the rainfall most of us. and is loyal to her. We were just an ordinary lot of little town ma-trans but we decided that we brought up the average of happy marriagee and wanted you and your discouraged correspondent to know it. MRS. R. E. D.

ANSWER:

Perhaps nothing quite compensates a warm-hearted woman for waking up and finding herself married to a stony-hearted man who has no conception of her nature, one who makes no response to her affectionate appeal. But most of us in this life have "to piece out" and make the best garment we can out of the material at hand. A wife can hardly pick up and leave her husband simply because he isn't as affectionate as she would like him to be. The mere fact that he provides for her and is kind to her in his cold way shows that he is doing the best he is capable of.

Recently a group sat around a dinner table discussing experiences in life that had whipped them. There was an old man present and a wag said to him: "Colonel, tell us about your Waterloo." I haven't had any, he replied. "I haven't had any, he replied. "I have always got up and gone on fighting." You, dear woman, must get up and go on with the fight. If you can't elicit any satisfactory response from your husband, you may have a baby and if this is not possible you may adopt one. A baby will fill your time and thought. You may lavish all your thwarted affection on him and get it back a hundredfold. It is possible, too, that the presence of the little one in your husband's heart that he is unconscious of. Whether or not any change occurs in him, you will cease to fret about his coldness when you have a baby in your arms.
